GOVERNOR OF NEW JERSEY SEIZES PLANTS

Nine Yards of Huge Public Service Electric and Gas Co. Taken Over By State

INVOKES UTILITY LAW

Newark, N. J., April 5.—(P)—The state of New Jersey seized and began immediate operation today of nine gas works of the huge Public Service Electric & Gas Co. at the very hour set by six independent unions for a state-wide strike.

The 1,200 workers involved remained at their posts, assuring an uninterrupted flow of gas for heating and cooking to three-fourths of New Jersey's more than 4,000,000 residents.

Gov. Walter E. Edge last night signed the order authorizing the seizure and operation of the gas works under a nine-day-old state utility strike law. He empowered State Labor Commissioner Harry C. Harper to act as administrator of the plants "in order that the manufacture of gas may continue and that the public interest, health and welfare shall not be interfered with."

This first test of the new state law, which gives the governor power to take over public utilities as a last resort in labor disputes, came at 12:01 a. m. today when state troopers appeared at the scattered plants and read the proclamation to company and union officials. The order was served in Newark on E. A. Lydecker, a public service vice-president.

Union leaders, who previously had announced that workers would stay at their jobs if the state took over in the event negotiations over wage increase demands collapsed, told their members to give 100 per cent cooperation to Harper.

"After 12:01 a. m., Harry Harper will be your new boss," John Landrigan, counsel for the Camden and Glassboro unions, told a union meeting. "There will be no interruption of service, nor will any of you lose a cent of pay."

Under terms of the proclamation Harper can order all personnel, including management to continue at their tasks at the same pay and working conditions and has power to appoint assistants to aid him in administration of company operations until such time as the wage dispute is settled.

The seized plants are the Paterson Gas Works, Passaic Holder (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Granger Is Witness At Draft Hearing

Washington, April 5.—(P)—Fred Bailey, legislative representative of the National Grange, asserted today Selective Service boards are "ignoring" a provision of the draft law deferring essential farm workers until replacement can be obtained.

Declaring that congress must decide whether "it is going to police the world or help feed" it, Bailey said that 13 of each 100 men drafted recently have been farm youths. On the other hand, he said, only eight of each 100 inducted are eventually returning to the farms.

Bailey appeared before the senate military committee to oppose a year's extension of the Selective Service act as the house military group gathered on the other side of the capitol to vote on the question—a hot issue in an election year.

The draft law expires May 15 unless renewed by congress. The senate committee faces a showdown vote on extension next Tuesday.

Veteran of World War Tries Suicide After Admitting Crime

Chester, April 5.—(P)—A 24-year-old ex-GI who admitted killing a Delaware county housewife with the aid of another man "because she resisted us," then slashed his throat in a suicide attempt was in critical condition today, Police Captain Andrew Desmond reported.

Chester hospital attaches said the man, Frederick Morris, "probably will live."

Truman's Army Day Speech To Be a Firm Warning For Maintaining a Large Force

Washington, April 5.—(P)—President Truman today drafted a firm Army Day warning to his country to maintain powerful armed forces during the critical experimental years of the United Nations.

An estimated 100,000 troops were on the move to more than a dozen cities for the first Army Day parades since Pearl Harbor.

President Truman's address, after a parade of some 14,000 infantrymen and other troops in Chicago, tops tomorrow's program.

Other major demonstrations of military might will be given here, at San Francisco, San Antonio, Tex., and New York.

"Open house" will be held at all army posts.

The chief executive leaves at 4:25 p. m. for Chicago where, in famous Soldier Field, he will deliver a 20-minute address renouncing United States foreign policy and his recipe for backing it up.

The address, following talks by Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson and General Dwight D. Eisenhower, chief of staff, is scheduled for delivery at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

A large group of notables, including members of the cabinet, will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, aboard the special Pennsylvania Railroad train. Also aboard will be 37 reporters, radio correspondents and photographers.

In an unusual departure from presidential custom, Mr. Truman will hold a special news conference in Chicago's Blackstone hotel tomorrow morning for about 100 writers for high school and college papers in the Chicago area.

Mr. Truman's address, described by his aides as a major policy pronouncement, is expected to embrace new pleas for:

1. Extension of the Selective Service authority to draft men for the armed forces.

2. Passage of legislation to arm the administration with authority to draft the nation's youth for one year of military training to provide a reserve of trained citizens against future emergencies.

3. Early enactment of army-navy merger legislation to create a single department of national defense in which the air forces would have equal status.

"I tried to retain those already recaptured and returned to camp," he said. "In that I succeeded, but that was all."

Keitel said when he first learned of the mass escape he intended to delete the incident from his daily report to Hitler but Himmler arrived at headquarters and told the whole story.

This brought "a serious clash between Hitler and myself," Keitel said. "He raised the most incredible accusations against me. The Fuehrer was extremely excited and said these prisoners were to remain with the police."

He said Himmler's greed for power always complicated the treatment of prisoners by the German army.

He denied testimony by German Gen. Erwin Lahousen that he had proposed the assassination of both Weygand and Giraud. He denied also Giraud's charges that the Germans persecuted his family.

NOTED SONG WRITER IS VICTIM OF T. B.

Denver, April 5.—(P)—Vincent Youmans, 47, composer of such popular song hits as "Great Day" and "Tea for Two," died at 7:35 a. m. today after an illness of several weeks.

He had been a patient in a tuberculosis sanitarium for more than a month.

The famed song writer, who wrote musical scores for a dozen or more hit Broadway productions, was born in New York City. He first hit the big time in the music world when he turned out the score for the musical comedy hit "Two Little Girls in Blue."

He pulled out a razor and cut his throat.

Tyler's lifeless body was found in the gas-filled kitchen of his home by detectives yesterday. Desmond said "certainly it was suicide."

A note, apparently written by Tyler, read: "I have not been good and it looks like I never will be now."

Desmond quoted Morris as saying the two ex-soldiers got into a cab with Mrs. Reynolds, offering to pay her fare home. The three got out at the entrance of Crozer park. Mrs. Reynolds became frightened and started to run away.

"We caught her and knocked her out," Desmond quoted Morris. "She fought us so we used our fists on her and kicked her."

Morris said "no weapons" were used.

"We slugged her with one of her shoes but nothing else. We just used our fists and feet. I guess we just lost our heads," police said Morris told them.

No Settlement In Prospect At Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, April 5.—(P)—Production workers at Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants today reached the 80th day of their strike for an 18-cent hourly pay raise with the pledge of $34,000 relief money and "full support" from affiliated CIO unions.

Meanwhile, in Washington, it appeared unlikely that a senate investigation of the prolonged strike would be made, except possibly as part of a general study of labor unrest and then only later in the year.

The executive board of the CIO-United Steelworkers voted "to make the sum of $25,000 available for the relief of strikes" at Westinghouse mills and promised "complete support."

A donation of $9,000 was pledged (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Pay Hike For Fed. Worker Has Catch

Washington, April 5.—(P)—The house held out the promise of a $400-a-year pay raise to thousands of federal employees, but there was a big catch to it.

The catch is that enough federal workers be fired to make the necessary funds available, so that no increase in salary appropriations will be required.

The bill is not yet law and it may give way to a compromise measure, for the senate already has voted to raise the pay of federal workers about 11 per cent.

The provision making the pay raise of some workers contingent on the firing of others was introduced yesterday by Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.), and quickly approved. He estimated that on the basis of an average $2,000 annual salary, the government would have to discharge 200,000 employees between now and July 1 to finance the pay boost.

Supporters of the Dirksen proposal counted on the employee-firing angle making an attractive appeal in the senate, where lawmakers have long been criticizing the numbers on the government payroll.

$153,150 Is Found Buried In a Yard

Washington, April 5.—(P)—The Post Office Department announced today that three inspectors working on a postal theft case had unearthed $153,150 buried nine feet deep in a yard in Jacksonville, Fla.

The department said the money was part of $180,000 stolen by a former post office employee, who the department said confessed before he died August 10, 1944. It said the case involved the biggest money theft in postal history.

Chief Inspector James J. Jordan, asserting that discovery of the $153,150 solved the case, related that three inspectors who had been ordered to retrace every step in the two-year hunt for the missing money found it in two tin cans and two glass jars, sealed with paraffin and enclosed in two lengths of stove pipe.

Doran said that the late Joseph D. Marshall, who died 18 months ago "was a clerk in the registry section of the West Bay annex of the Jacksonville post office when a federal reserve bank shipment came into his hands."

COUNCIL FOR JAPS MAPPED BY M'ARTHUR

Russian Delegates Warn of "Increasing Activity of Reactionary Forces in Orient"

ELECTION IS PLANNED

Tokyo, April 5.—(P)—General MacArthur launched the four-day allied council for Japan today, notifying it that its function would be to advise him, while he retains unchallenged command. The council promptly gave him four pieces of advice, all offered by Russia whose delegate warned of "increasing activity of reactionary forces" among Japanese.

Lt. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko, Soviet representative, spoke up as soon as MacArthur's opening address—a stirring plea for all nations to renounce their right to wage war—was finished.

Derevyanko proposed:

Excluding the press; examining MacArthur's decrees seven days in advance of their issuance to Japanese; internationalizing the Council Secretariat (U. S. Brig. Gen. Bonner F. Fellers now is secretary-general); and holding new Japanese elections if next Wednesday's balloting elects "unsuitable" diet members.

MacArthur in his speech said it was advisable that all council meetings be open to public and press, to avoid any suspicion of "secret devices, undertakings or commitments."

At the suggestion of British commonwealth representative W. McMahon Ball, Russia withdrew her request to bar the press from all meetings, and the council agreed to admit newsmen to "unofficial meetings" whenever the council sees fit.

The council's next session, formally scheduled for April 17, presumably will be classified as major. Among other business, Russia's proposal to internationalize the council secretariat will be discussed at that time.

The Soviet delegate's suggestions that a second election be considered and that council members be given advance knowledge of Allied and imperial decrees will be brought to General MacArthur's attention, Maj. Gen. William F. Marquat, MacArthur's deputy on the council, informed Derevyanko.

The conferees' room, across from the Hirohito palace, was brightly lit with photographers' floodlights as MacArthur, speaking distinctly above the whirring movie cameras, made his plea for peace.

The United Nations must surely fail, he said, unless nations renounce their right to wage war. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Sister Identifies Body of Slain Girl

Waynesboro, April 5.—(P)—A girl whose nude strangled body was found along a rural road was identified by a sister today as 18-year-old Betty Jane Kennedy, of Hagerstown, Md.

A scar over the left eye aided Mrs. Pauline Gonder, of Hagerstown, to identify the girl. Her mother, Mrs. Sadie Kennedy, of Hagerstown, sobbed hysterically as she broke the news to the police station here.

Identification was established after more than 50 residents of Hagerstown and other communities, and of the rural, mountain regions nearby, had visited a funeral parlor where the body was taken last night.

Sheriff John B. Huyett, of Washington county, Md., brought the mother and sister here this morning.

Dr. S. D. Shull, Franklin county coroner, meantime announced he had determined the girl's death was caused by strangulation and a broken neck. District Attorney LeRoy S. Maxwell said he believed she was strangled with a fine wire or rope, but none was found.

Coroner Shull arranged to impale a jury for an inquest later today.

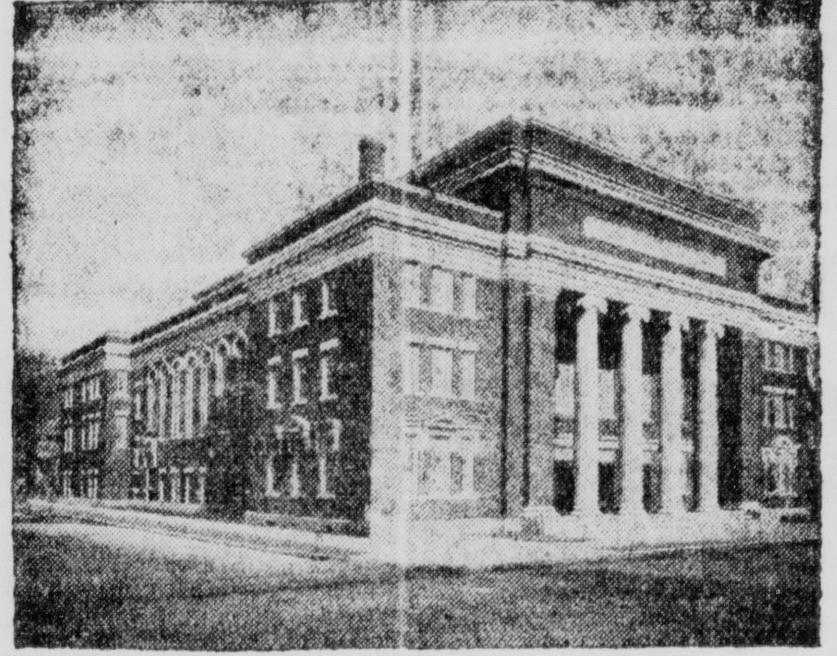

LONG LABOR DISPUTE FINALLY ADJUSTED

Stamford, Conn., April 5.—(P)—One of the nation's longest and most bitterly fought labor disputes since V-J day was settled early today as union and company negotiators reached an agreement ending the 21-week-old strike at the Yale and Towne Manufacturing company's lock factory here.

The settlement, announced in New York City shortly before one o'clock this morning at the conclusion of day-long session, was to be submitted for ratification at a mass meeting at 3 p. m. here of members of the International Association of Machinists (IAM).

About 2,700 members of the machinists' union struck last November 7, demanding a 30 percent wage increase and a closed shop, and 450 office workers have refused to cross their picket lines.

Number of Former Pastors To Be In Warren for Mortgage Burning At Grace Methodist

The burning of the mortgage at Grace Methodist church, to be accomplished in a special service held at 10:30 a. m. Sunday, marks the completion of 25 years of endeavor on the part of the congregation. The church was built under the pastorate of Dr. A. B. Smith, now retired and living in Brookville, but here as the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Harold Knappenberger, to have a part in Sunday's service.

The cornerstone of the new building, replacing a structure totally destroyed by fire, was laid in November, 1921. The building was completed in April, 1923. Bishop Francis J. McConell conducting the dedicatory service on April 22 of that year. The building cost was $300,000, of which $89,000 was covered by first mortgage bonds, and the burning of the mortgage represents the retirement of this bonded indebtedness, leaving the church debt free.

Grace church is proud of the fact that under the mercy of God every investor in Grace church bonds has been paid in full. One-third of the indebtedness has been paid during the pastorate of the Rev. Harold Knappenberger, who came to Warren in 1941.

Bishop James H. Straughn, of Pittsburgh, will pay his first visit to Warren on this occasion, delivering the morning sermon on the theme "The Church Is In Motion."

Dr. John A. Galbraith, of Jamestown, N. Y., head of the Jamestown District, will have a part in the service, as will Dr. Harold McCurdy, of Grove City, pastor here from 1929 to 1936; Dr. H. H. Barr, 1912-1918, now retired and residing in Warren. Dr. Smith served the congregation from 1921 to 1925. Others who have served in the new building are Dr. L. M. Barnard, 1925-29; the late Dr. J. H. Clemens, 1936-41, and Mr. Knappenberger, the present minister.

Sen. Myers Accuses Britain Of Violating Treaty With U. S.

Washington, April 5.—(P)—Senator Myers (D-Pa.) asserted today that Great Britain violated a treaty with the United States by granting independence to Transjordan, formerly a part of the Palestine mandate.

Myers revived senate controversy over a mutual assistance treaty signed by the British with Transjordan in address prepared for senate delivery. The British action, he charged, violates the United Nations charter.

He called upon the state department to "explain its lack of protest" and suggested the senate look into the matter.

"When the United States of America sits idly by while a flagrant violation of its solemn treaty right is committed and when, in fact, a treaty is abrogated by unilateral action in contempt of the senate, it is my duty to call attention of the senate and the people of the country to the matter," Myers declared.

The Pennsylvania senator said Great Britain "had no right" to change the terms of the League of Nations mandate under which Palestine and the Transjordan territory is administered. Under the Anglo-American agreement of 1924, he contended, Britain was required to obtain permission before taking any such action.

Myers said taxes on Jews in Palestine had been used to support the administration of Emir Abdullah, with whom the British signed a treaty which Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) told the senate yesterday permitted English troops to remain in Transjordan.

"If the peoples of the world are to believe in the moral position of the United States as a world leader," Myers declared, "then they must have evidence that we will strike out against violations (Turn to Page Thirteen)

War Launched On Gambling Devices

New York, April 5.—(P)—Mayor William O'Dwyer's war against pinball and slot machine operators was underway today as squads of patrolmen checked stores, clubs and warehouses in the five boroughs in an effort to unearth hidden gambling devices.

The police activity was touched off by the mayor's declaration last night that he "would not tolerate" the machines "in any form in the city of New York" and that he hoped the machines would not be found in the city today.

The mayor's statement followed an anti-rackets meeting with the city's law enforcement officers which was held to make plans to curb a threatened invasion by out-of-town gambling machine operators.

Meanwhile, the New York Times and The New York Herald Tribune said they had learned that 100 out of town distributors of the devices met in a mid-town hotel last week and outlined a plan to break the no-gambling ban here.

Addressed by representatives of operators from Chicago and Philadelphia, the distributors were asked to donate $25 each to establish a defense fund to bring the pinball ban into the courts and test its legality.

OUTSTANDING ISSUES ARE ALL SETTLED

Re: Army Troops To Evacuate Territory Within One and Half Months From March 24

REACTIONS FAVORABLE

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN
Tehran, April 5.—(P)—The Iranian government announced an agreement with Soviet Russia today on withdrawal of Russian troops, oil and Azerbaijan. Prince Firooz, minister of propaganda, told a news conference that, as a result of negotiations here and at Moscow, "all outstanding questions between the two countries have been settled on a basis of complete reciprocity and good will."

No formal treaty has been signed, Firooz said, but the cabinet met until 1 a. m. today and "gave unanimous approval" to an official communique outlining the basis of the settlement, reached yesterday. This communique was formally signed at 2:30 a. m. by Premier Ahmed Quavam and Ambassador I. V. Sadchikov of Russia, he said.

The communique said "complete agreement was reached on all questions" and proposed:

1. Red army troops to evacuate Iranian territory within one and a half months from March 24.

2. Formation of a joint Iranian-Soviet oil company, exact terms to be submitted to parliament within seven months after March 24.

3. The Azerbaijan problem to be recognized as a "purely internal affair" of Iran.

New York, April 5.—(P)—Word of the new Russo-Iranian agreement announced at Tehran today was received with obvious caution by diplomats in the United Nations, although first reactions were generally favorable. Some suggested the pact actually strengthened and broadened Russia's assurances of troop removals from Iran which the Security Council yesterday formally accepted.

However, the speed with which the agreement followed upon the Security Council's action evidently caught the experts by surprise. The reserve with which they greeted it was explained by some as reflecting a determination to make doubly sure that Russia had not exerted any new pressure on Iran.

Signing of a three-point agreement today between Iran and Russia, which provided for the formation of a joint Iranian-Soviet oil company was announced in Tehran. Terms of the proposal for oil concessions to Russia "will be submitted to the 15th Majlis (parliament) for its approval within seven months after March 24," the Iranian government said.

The other points were that Red army troops would evacuate Iran unconditionally within six weeks from March 24, and that Iran's problem with Azerbaijan province, which has proclaimed autonomy, would be recognized as "a purely internal affair."

Premier Ahmed Quavam of Iran and Soviet Ambassador I. V. Sadchikov signed the accord. The Moscow radio commented that there was "complete agreement on all questions."

The immediate controversy over evacuation of the troops appeared reasonably well settled by Russia's promise, which the council has accepted, that her force would all be withdrawn by early next month. The case may come up again a month from tomorrow but if the Red army is out by then any council action probably would be little more than a formality.

With the crisis thus passed and their docket clear of political issues for the moment, the Security Council members swung over today to the task of building up the machinery of their organization. Legal experts were polishing up a new set of rules of procedure for the council and its next meeting on Tuesday afternoon probably will be held.

Giant Circus Has Auspicious Opening In New York City

New York, April 5.—(P)—The circus opened its 1946 season in pre-war style last night and for three and a half hours, 14,500 spectators in Madison Square Garden watched talented performers that almost warranted the glittering superlatives of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey press corps.

The trained seals were "self-applauding comedians from the briny deep with equilibrium prowess unlimited."

The acrobatic acts were "an incomparable plethora of globally celebrated acrobatic prodigies, including three Sensation Troupes making their American debut."

The white-faced, red-nosed clowns were "a futuristic tidal wave sweeping the arena with heroic nonsense in a howling hurricane of histrionic hilarity."

The flying trapeze acts "tapered hitherto converted only in flights of purest fancy."

Well, nearly.

And in addition:

There were dancing elephants in blue satin dresses, a pageant of childhood toys come to life, acrobatics on horseback, the incomparable wallendas of the highwire and scores of beautiful girls.

Only Gargantua the Great, "most terrifying animal in captivity," seemed mild and meek.

The giant gorilla paced his cage and looked wistfully at his bride, Toto, separated from him by bars. He stuck his fingers through to try to reach her. Toto reclined in a Cleopatra attitude on one elbow, and ignored him.

Good Suggestion Made That Needs Whole-souled Support

One of Warren's merchants this morning called at The Times-Mirror office with a suggestion that should be followed up in a whole hearted manner. He called attention to the fact that during the first week in May the Jamestown Furniture Exposition will be on and that many buyers come to Warren. They have reserved many rooms at the hotels. At the same time a church convention will be held in this city with over 200 delegates expected to attend. The matter of securing rooms for the visitors is becoming a problem for the committees in charge of the church convention.

It was suggested that everyone in the city who can care for one or two, or even more, persons in their homes during this period list with the Chamber of Commerce how many persons they can care for. The opportunity is offered for rental of rooms for a few days to convention delegates and that housewives can make a little extra money during that period. Warren should be able to care for that number of delegates with ease and if the residents of the city will list their available rooms in the near future the problem will be solved with no trouble.

Farm Home Entered On Thursday P. M.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Duddy on the Warren-Jamestown road was entered sometime Thursday afternoon between 1 and 2:30 o'clock and the place was thoroughly ransacked. Mrs. Duddy had driven her husband to work and on her return found that the back door had been broken open and the house given a thorough going over. Two suits of Mr. Duddy's clothes were taken along with a quantity of shirts, shorts and other wearing apparel, a radio, pens and jewelry. The loss is quite a heavy one. Sheriff L. E. Linder, Deputy Sanford Secor and Corp. Vaughn of the state police investigated but as yet have found no conclusive clue.

Foresters Hope To Develop Blight-Free Chestnut Tree

Harrisburg—Still concerned over the blight which has affected the true American Chestnut tree, the State Department of Forests and Waters is continuing its search for a species, over twelve inches in diameter in Pennsylvania, that has escaped the disease. Secretary James A. Kell announces today.

One of the State's most popular trees a decade and more ago, it has slowly been declining to a place of practical extinction.

State Foresters have reported to Secretary Kell, however, that it is true that some chestnuts are produced in some twenty counties of the State—from sprouts.

"The sprouts are soon attacked and while they may bear some nuts for a few years, the trees never reach a mature, or appreciable size that would indicate immunity from blight," Kell said.

"There is one area that is about 25 years old and consists of about 70 acres," he said, which up until about a year ago apparently escaped the blight. Our foresters will soon check the area's trees again. "The fact that the chestnuts in this area—near the top of the mountain above Lewistown, Mifflin county—have thus far escaped the disease is no reason to assume that they are immune," Kell said his foresters told him.

The secretary said that the Department is conducting a number of experiments on hybrid chestnuts but that the tests have not been in existence long enough to determine factual results.

The United States Bureau of Plant Industry has developed a type of chestnut in their experimental nursery in Georgia, Kell said. It is known as the Nanking variety.

Experiments seem to indicate that the Nanking variety is immune to the blight, and by cross-breeding, the nut has been produced which is as savory as the famous American chestnut.

He said the state's research foresters are watching closely the Georgia experiments while conducting, in a small way, local tests for the department's specific information. None of the Commonwealth's tests have advanced to the extent of those in the Georgia nursery, Kell said.

The department is establishing two experimental plots of Nanking chestnut this spring in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry, the Secretary said, and from these plots—if growth and progress is satisfactory—shoots will be planted throughout Pennsylvania so that "once more we shall have a period of the year 'When chestnuts are in season'."

BARBER SHOP HOURS

Patrons are reminded that under a new schedule recently adopted barber shops close at eight o'clock Friday evenings instead of nine.

BOT WON ATTENTION

A large motor boat being hauled through Warren on a truck this morning won much attention. It had been purchased at a war surplus sale and was being taken to Erie for use on the lake there.

CANCER EXPERT

Guest speaker for the Monday luncheon-meeting of the Rotary Club will be Dr. Ralph D. Bacon, of Erie, on the council of the American Cancer Association. His topic will be "What Rotary Can Do to Help the American Cancer Association".

HOUSECLEANING ON

Up at the city building housecleaning is underway and the walls of the police station are being washed down. However it seems to be a thankless job as they haven't had much attention for 10 years and a painting job would seem to be in order.

WILL MEET TONIGHT

Tonight in Youngville borough building the Brokenstraw Fish and Game Club will hold a meeting. Plans will be completed for the banquet to be held by the club and other business transacted. A big crowd is expected to be in attendance.

K. OF C. PARTY

Members of the Knights of Columbus are reminded of the bowling party to be held Saturday evening in the club rooms, as a sendoff for the thirty-six bowlers who are to compete in the annual K. of C. tournament in Troy, N. Y., next week. Music for the dancing will be furnished by the Summers orchestra.

SOUGHT A SIESTA

One lonely imbibor of the cup that leads to forgetfulness sought a stairway in town last night as a place for a siesta. Police rudely interrupted his slumbers to move him to the city building where he finished his sleep on the "slats". Police last evening were also called to a local taproom where a fellow struck a woman and pulled a knife on the mixologist. He had disappeared when the officers arrived. Warrants will probably be secured for his arrest. He has tangled with Warren coppers in the past but just came home from the service and probably thought the war was not over.

Invite Public To Salvation Army Service

A special Lenten service will be held at the Salvation Army citadel this evening. Captain Nolan Shipman, in charge of the work in Corry, will bring the message of the evening.

In the crusade for the souls of men, Salvationists throughout the nation have determined that the gospel of Jesus Christ can meet the need of the day. Each Friday night during the Lenten season, guest speakers have occupied the pulpit at the Warren Corps. The Spirit of the Lord has been manifest in these services and people have been wonderfully blessed.

Accompanying Captain Shipman will be a brigade of Corps Cadets who will offer vocal and instrumental contributions to the program. This brigade is a young people's group, organized for the study of God's word and to take leading parts in evangelistic meetings. Their enthusiasm is a delight to congregations and locally, friends of the Salvation Army are expecting a spiritual treat.

Captain Shipman has been a salvationist for many years and is a fervent, fiery preacher of the gospel. This evening's service will commence at 7:45 and the public is urged to worship with this group.

Moose Elect Officers For Coming Year

At a largely attended meeting of Lodge 109, Loyal Order of Moose, held last evening in the Moose building on Hickory street officers for the coming year were chosen. The following were chosen: Governor, George Wertman; Junior Governor, Gust Sandstrom; Prelate, Jose Waples; Trustee, 2 years, Sheridan Moore; Trustee, 3 years, Ward Bauer; Treasurer, S. E. Kuhre; Secretary, Walter Y. Kiser; Delegate to State Convention to be held at Altoona next September, George Wertman; Gust Sandstrom and William Olson.

The lodge last evening also went on record officially as sponsoring a team in the Moose Junior League which will encompass Warren, Titusville, Oil City, Corry and Meadville. The Moose Junior League will play a schedule during the late months of the summer and Steve Tritt, of this city was confirmed as one of the Commissioners of the league.

Membership in the Order is growing in fine shape and last evening three new members were added.

A report was also received from the committee which accompanied Mrs. George Bobrest and children to Mooseheart to make their future home. It was reported that quarters had been in readiness for the family and that they were given a homelike welcome with a warm supper awaiting them upon their arrival.

GARLAND

Mrs. Frank Colbert announces the engagement of her daughter Dolores Mae to Everett Keaster, Jr., of Sugar Grove. Dolores was a member of the Youngville High School graduating in 1945.

A large crowd of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Haller last week in honor of their recent marriage. Many out of town guests were present. Many good wishes were left the Hallers for happiness.

Services are being held weekly in the little Catholic chapel here and will continue through the Lenten season. The little church is filled with communicants.

W. C. Leofsky attended a recent meeting of potato growers held in Warren.

Walter Taydos was in Corry Friday evening. He is waiting patiently for the new car he has been promised.

Several from Garland attended the party, honoring the State Hovancs held in their home at Pittsfield on Saturday evening.

Frederick Carlson spent a short time Sunday with his mother at Youngville. The occasion was also his birthday which is April 2nd. He leaves this week for California on business for his company.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Sandrock were in Warren on Saturday visiting their daughter Mrs. Homer Frampton who is a surgical patient there.

Norman Taylor, Mrs. Black, Mrs. E. Price and daughter, Betty were Warren business visitors on Tuesday.

Mrs. Chris Lund was hostess for the recently organized Woman's Auxiliary on Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was well attended and much interest is being manifested in this new venture.

Several new telephones have been installed for residents in this vicinity including Isabel Price, Roman Leofsky, John Zolko and Andy Zolko.

Mrs. Duane Upton and small daughter Juanita of Oil City are the guests this week at the home of her father and new step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Haller.

The automobile accident which involved four young people from this vicinity attracted much attention. The car owned by Edward Stec from Garland recently discharged from the Navy crashed through the guard rails below Garland, rolled down a 150 foot embankment and was stopped by a moving freight train. This no doubt kept the car from going into the creek. How any of them escaped death is a miracle. Roy Freeborough from Youngville is being treated in an Erie hospital, critically injured. Shirley Birchard is in the Warren hospital in a serious condition. The other two were able to be taken to their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Price of Erie were guests Sunday at the home of their daughter-in-law here.

Alice Gray entertained a number of friends for dinner on March 28th in honor of her 21st birthday. Later the party left for Warren where they enjoyed a picture show.

CANCER CONTROL MONTH

April, designated by Congress as Cancer Control Month, will mark the annual fund campaign of the American Cancer Society, and its Pennsylvania Division. The national quota is $12,000,000, of which it is hoped to raise approximately $1,000,000 in the Commonwealth. Never was an appeal issued which had a more direct bearing on the happiness and lives of everyone.

If the present trend continues, one out of every six Americans will fall victim to this disease. Cancer is killing Americans at the rate of 175,000 every year—478 every day—20 every hour—one every three minutes. This means, the Pennsylvania Division of the Society cites, that a total of 17,000,000 Americans now living will meet death through this malady, unless something is done about it, now.

The Society is waging a three-pronged battle against this killer—Education, to teach the public to recognize possible cancer symptoms early, and thus to seek treatment before it is too late; service, to provide hospitals, through donations, with greater facilities for cancer diagnosis and cure, and to provide aid to indigent victims; research, to achieve, through a nation-wide program, possible future eradication of this disease.

Additional funds are needed to expand these projects, to bring hope to thousands of the afflicted, and millions who may yet be afflicted.

So that others may live—give.

NEW DATE FOR COAL STRIKES

If the coal strike is to become an annual event, we should like to suggest to John L. Lewis and the bituminous mine operators that they change the expiration date of their contracts from March 31 to, say, May 31.

It's still chilly throughout most of the country in April, and in a lot of places, snow in May is not uncommon. A fire feels mighty good on frosty evenings. This is a poor season for folks to have to cut down on coal.

So the strike ought to be scheduled to start at a time more convenient for the public. If baseball officials scheduled the World Series to take place at Lake Placid in January, people would kick, and with good reason.

The same goes for the coal strike. The public is going to start complaining after a while—blaming either Mr. Lewis or the operators for needless inconvenience.

So, if we were John L., we should insist on starting the new contract and the new strike on June 1. That way it would be possible to tie up the mines and a good deal of industry to slow down national production, and to have a good long strike before the first snow.

The public wouldn't shiver. And the striking miners could get in a lot of fishing.

Congratulations to all those Grace Methodist pastors and members, present and past, who have had a share in the splendid endeavor of retiring an indebtedness of $190,000, incurred when the present church was erected 25 years ago. The presence of several former pastors and Bishop James H. Straughn for the mortgage-burning service on Sunday morning is a fitting climax.

Army Day tomorrow, April 6, provides another good excuse for hanging out the Stars and Stripes on business establishments and private homes, evidence that one and all are proud of the greatest army and country in the world.

LENTEN SERMONETTE

By REV. HANS PEARSON

Bethany Evangelical Lutheran Church, Sheffield

The cross is one of the Lenten symbols. It stands for suffering and for sacrifice. And Christ did suffer, and He paid the supreme sacrifice.

It was man's sin that raised the cross on the hill; it was man's sin that nailed Christ to the cross. Sin is no illusion; it is very much a reality. Look at the front page of your daily papers—murders, divorces, drunkenness, crimes of every description down the scale to lesser sins of the heart, not seen by human eyes, such as pride, envy, jealousy, grudge, hatred, revenge, impure motives, dishonesty—just to mention a few of the many. God's all penetrating eye sees all our weaknesses and shortcomings. Wrongdoing of every kind stands out against the background of the cross. It made Calvary for Christ.

But more than that; it makes man a slave or at least makes him wretched and unhappy. There is no such thing as you can do about this matter. God had to step in and do something about it. And He did.

If you ask how can I be free or how can I be truly happy? there is one answer, and only one. Christ is the answer. The name Saviour is God's answer. There is no other. Jesus has power to conquer sin in man and make every being free and happy, not only for this life, but also for the life to come.

The Escort She Needs

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP World Traveler

Paris—Former President Herbert Hoover is launching his investigation of the European food shortage without any delusions as to the gravity of the position or the dangers which develop when men's minds are overwrought by hunger.

His recognition of the great urgency of the situation was quite apparent in a private conversation which I had with him on the eve of his departure for Rome, where he will continue his study. His thirst for information impelled him to rob me of my prerogatives as a reporter and he proceeded to ply me with questions about the position in central Europe, which Mrs. Mack and I have just toured.

It was easy to see that he was working from the encyclopedic knowledge which he acquired while food relief administrator for Europe at the end of the last war. I saw a great deal of him at that time as an Associated Press Correspondent.

His present problem makes the dilemma of old Mother Hubbard look like the plenty of a Sunday school picnic. It's estimated that there are some 500,000,000 people hungry in various parts of the world and the experts tell us there's only enough food for three-quarters of them. We don't have to draw diagrams to emphasize the grimness of that situation. It means that a lot of people are going to die of hunger before world production can catch up with the shortage.

The position isn't the same now as it was after the last war, when Mr. Hoover made himself famous as Europe's provisioner. Then the world had prepared for the food shortage which followed the first global conflict and the contingency could be met. But now there just isn't the food. The world won't be anything like enough food until after the harvests several months hence. No wonder Mr. Hoover says the next four months are the crucial ones.

He points out that the immediate relief must come from north and South America. That's where the grain and other foodstuffs are. This means that Canada, the United States and the Argentine (Turn to Page Eight)

Stamp News

STAMPS of European countries continue to picture the grim ravages of war. France recently portrayed ruins of her bombed cities on a set of stamps and now Poland has gone a step further by showing Warsaw buildings as they were in 1939 and their post-war, 1945, condition.

Six large imperforate stamps thus far have appeared in this country. Each picturing a before and after view of a famous building in the Polish capital, the values thus far noted are: 1.50-zloty rose carmine; 3-z dark blue; 3.50-z gray green; 6-z olive green; 6-z brown and 10-z violet. The 6-z value is illustrated here.

Another newcomer from Poland is a 1.50 plus 8.50-z blue stamp marking Poland's Trade Union Congress at Warsaw last November 18-21. The design shows three workers clapping hands against a background of factories.

A third new Polish issue recalls a 1410 victory of Poland's forces over the Germans at Grunwald. At least two values of this series have been seen—a 50-z glossy green and a 5-zloty blue, both picturing battle monuments or heroic scenes. An overprint increasing the 50-g value to one zloty also has been noted.

ALTHOUGH no announcement has been made by the Post Office Department that the stamp was officially scheduled, much less a design selected, Rep. Talle (R-Iowa) has disclosed that a mural at the state capitol at Des Moines has been selected as the design for an Iowa centennial stamp. The stamp will be of the three-cent denomination and special delivery size. NO date has been announced for its release, but presumably it will be issued next Dec. 18, 100th anniversary of the state's admission to statehood.

The mural, entitled "westward," was painted by Edwin H. Blashfield of New York and its use was suggested by Charles M. Fouts, an Albia, Ia., high school student.

EVER wonder how many United States stamps are issued in one year? The total estimated by the Post Office Department for the 1946 fiscal year which began last July 1 was 20,463,625,249 and the same number is estimated as needed for the 1947 fiscal year beginning next July 1. Included in the 1947 estimates are 14,202,104,922 ordinary stamps, including commemorative, and 2,438,747,750 airmail stamps.

COLLECTORS are offered an opportunity to participate in promotion of the international stamp exhibition to be held in Grand Central Palace, New York City, in May, 1947 to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the first United States postage stamp. They may pledge guarantees toward financing the show or can aid by becoming a member of the Association for Stamp Exhibitions at a fee of $2 for a regular membership, $10 for an honor roll membership for five years or $25 for a life membership. Applications may be obtained from Edward E. Elkins, secretary, 22 East Thirty-fifth St., New York.

Alfred F. Lichtenstein has been elected chairman of the exhibition. Dealers already have pledged $52,750 toward the show.

NEW stamps reported released or about to be issued include a set of 14 Vatican City stamps presenting portraits of the new Cardinals created in February by Pope Pius XII. . . . Norway plans a semi-postal set of four stamps picturing Crown Prince Olaf in battle uniform. . . . And Mexico has announced 11 postage and airmail stamps will be issued to commemorate the recent United Nations conference in London.

NUMEROUS stamps issued by German provinces are appearing in this country in recent months. First to appear was a set for use in Berlin some months ago and now distinctive stamps for the provinces of Mecklenburg-Vorpommern, Saxony, Saxony and Thuringia have been seen. One of the latest sets are two semi-postals, a 6 plus 4 pfennig green picturing the Dresden Castle and a 12 plus 88-pf red showing the Dresden city hall, received from the Russian zone of Saxony. The stamps are inscribed "Deutsche Post Bundesland Sachsen" at the bottom and "Wir Bauen Auf!" (We Build Up!) at the top of the stamp.

A charity set of 12 values which is not identified with any one province has been received by J. and H. Stow of New York. Inscribed in German "For the Needs of the People" and "Solidarity of the People," the stamps feature a large numeral surrounded by a circle made up of figures of men and women at work. The additional charity value of the stamp is printed in small letters at the bottom. Values range from three-plus-two pfennigs to 60 plus 40-pf.

Four designs appear on a set of 10 perforate and imperforate stamps from Thuringia. Three evergreen trees against a rising sun, a post horn and portraits of the poets Goethe and Schiller are depicted on the values ranging from four to 30 pfennigs. The four designs also have been reported on a souvenir sheet of four stamps while three sheets of the evergreen design were used on a second souvenir sheet. Both sheets were issued last December to raise funds for welfare and Christmas aid.

SOCIETY NEWS

Everything Set For Community Party On Saturday

Last night's rehearsal of the community party floor show promised entertainment that is "tops" for the April Showers Shuffle at Beatty school tomorrow night. The lineup of acts is one that Warren young people should be satisfied to have represent them in Jamestown next week.

Jack MacDonald, as master of ceremonies, is introducing nine acts and will keep things moving from the time the floor show goes on at ten o'clock. The opener will be a dance specialty by Marilyn Dobbs, who is also booked for a second number later in the evening.

There is a good contrast in vocalists—all of them with numbers especially suited to their style. Carol Kirberger is singing "On What It Seemed to Be"; Tessie Fino has selected "Slowly"; and Dale Holcomb will close the show with "Ain't Misbehavin'".

Ronnie Schwartz and Jud Hetrick have a sure-hit comedy routine, "Life Can Be Beautiful". The young crowd is looking forward to hearing Harry Summers' special arrangement of "Dreams" as sung by the Four Keys, Dave Leidy, Bill Blair, Ed Wood and Bob Hunk. A highlight of the evening will be a clever piano specialty, with variations of Yankee Doodle by Johnny Knapp. Johnny will also be heard as accompanist for the other numbers.

Midway in the show Dale Soderburg's Orchestra will be heard in a clever feature. Bill Dobbs on the sax will be a guest member of the orchestra.

Rita Scrivano, chairman of the refreshments committee, has asked that all members be on hand for their shifts. On the first shift are Alan Schuler, Jane Heiman, Gerry Nero, Carol Proud, Jeanne Way, Carol Somers, Mary Ruhman, Ina Carlson, Bud Allen, Bill Lord, Louie Lowe, Rose Ann Gleason and Jack Warner. In charge of the second shift are Elsie Walker and Lois Hulings, assisted by Verma Knudsen, Carol King, Beverly Simons, Lorna Mae Hulings, Meredith Hutchings, Dick Stone, Don Wood, Bob Blair, Chuck Neiderlander, and Jim Albaugh. On the third shift, headed by Joanne Cameron, are Yvonne Miller, Marion Endress, Lena Constable, Delores Erickson, Erelene Hanna, Robinell Elberg and Jack Updgraff.

Louie Lowe, chairman of cleanup, is asking all his committee to be ready promptly at 11:15 p. m. On the committee are Edward E. Elkins, secretary, 22 East Thirty-fifth St., New York.

Alfred F. Lichtenstein has been elected chairman of the exhibition. Dealers already have pledged $52,750 toward the show.

Mrs. Robert Truett, chairman of the religious and world fellowship committee, will make the introductions.

As in the past, all money realized from tickets for the Lenten tea goes directly to the sum which is Warren's share of the world work of the YWCA.

Tells When It's 10 to 1 Garden is Safe from Frost

This U. S. Department of Agriculture map shows dates on which the chances of damage from frost are only one to ten.

Every outdoor garden task in each locality must be timed with reference to a key date, which is the average date of the last killing frost in spring.

The number of days between this date and that of the first killing frost in fall determines the entire list of crops which can be grown. One of the first things the amateur gardener should learn is the length of this frost-free season in his locality, and he should keep it in mind in selecting varieties of both vegetables and flowers to grow.

In most localities there is a date in the spring which is accepted as the time when tender plants, which would be injured by frost, can be safely set out. It will probably be found to fall within the limits shown on the U. S. Department of Agriculture map which illustrates this article.

The dates shown on the map for the various areas give the period during which chances of frost are only 1 in 10. There is always the chance of an exceptional year, when a frost will occur long after the average time, and many tender things may be nipped. But some risk must always be accepted in gardening.

Look up your location and talk to your gardening neighbors about their practice, and you will find it easy to decide on the date to accept as safe from frost in your garden.

Of course some years you may win with a long-shot and get a crop from an early planting of a tender crop because of an exceptionally warm spring. If you want to figure the odds against this kind of chance taking, you may estimate that the risk of losing tender plants is exactly doubled, when they are set out two weeks before the frost-free date.

There is nothing to be gained, moreover, by taking this risk with plants which have been started indoors, since they may be seriously injured by a hard frost which does not kill them, and always do best when they continue growing without a check.

On the Serious Side

April 6 is Army Day, when tribute is paid the great military organization which is in such measure responsible for the freedoms we still enjoy today. The suggestion seems apropos that every home in America display the flag that has traveled to such far places in the past few years and is still flying in widely scattered territories. We like a parade, a rally, an oration, as much as does any other American, but Army Day in 1946 should be an occasion for serious thought as well as for effervescent emotion. It is a year of crisis, a year which may well shape the destinies of many generations to come.

After four seemingly endless years of war, we are at peace. But we face a great, or greater, battle in maintaining that peace. And we face it, moreover, without the faintest semblance of the unity and clarity which characterized our war effort. As a result, we have not at present an army sufficiently strong or aggressive to win for us the current struggle for survival. Congress has permitted the army to dwindle from overwhelming authority to frightening weakness by rapidly and seemingly uncontrolled demobilization. And it has not provided essential replacements, either by enactment of universal military training or by an appreciable extension of the draft, now scheduled to expire May 15. The issue is, therefore, squarely up to American youth. By enlisting in sufficient numbers, they can mold the national destiny and spare the world the limitless devastation of still another armed conflict.

Our army offers the highest pay, the finest food and quarters, the best medical treatment of any in the world. It offers, too, the pride of membership in a team that has never been beaten; the self-respect which comes from participation in a vital task. We hope the young men of our country—their parents, their congressmen and senators—will think upon these things on Army Day.

Banquet Honors Returned Veterans

Youngsville, April 5—A banquet held in the United Brethren church to honor returned servicemen and their families was attended by 80 guests, including 20 to 25 service men and families. Mrs. Mayola Sanford had charge of the kitchen and Mrs. Martha Freeborough, the dining room. Tables were decorated with patriotic designs, and small globes indicated the world travels of the honor roll members present.

Gilbert Sanford was toastmaster, introducing the various numbers. Dallas Haight read the scripture and led in prayer, with James Jones, Sunday school superintendent, saying grace. The colors were presented by the Boy Scouts and the salute to the American and Christian flags was led by Lewis Crippen, Scoutmaster. This was followed by singing of the national anthem.

Rev. J. Leonard Strong extended the welcome to servicemen and families, James Thompson, home from the Pacific, giving the response. A quartet, Walter Forsherg, Rev. Strong, Plummer Mourer and Rex Young, was accompanied at the piano by Treva McKinney, who then joined with Betty Brown in a piano duet.

An inspiring address was given by Pastor Edward K. Rogers, of Warren, First Lutheran church. The program closed with the singing of "God Be With You" and the benediction by Pastor Strong. Credit for the excellent program should be given the committee consisting of Gilbert Sanford, Plummer Mourer, Lewis Crippen, Dallas Haight and Rev. Strong; also to the ladies of the church for the dinner they served.

Fire of undetermined origin partially destroyed the old landmark in the lower end of Barnes, known as the "Lacy Place", late Saturday night. The Sheffield Fire Department was called by neighbors who discovered the blaze, and were able to put out the fire which had already gained headway in the old building. The building is now owned by James Donaldson of Kane and has been unoccupied for months. Mrs. Donaldson had had the building wired and a loud speaking system installed, with hopes of later erecting a broadcasting station here. As far as we can learn, it is a complete loss, no insurance was carried on the structure. In its time, it was one of the finest homes in Barnes, having been built by Lathan Lacy for his son, Elmer, who first occupied it in 1851. It attracted a lot of visitors all day Sunday, and Mrs. Jacob Fridley, who lives nearby counted 983 persons who viewed the ruins of the old house during the day.
Mr. and Mrs. David Titus left for Three Spring, Huntingdon county, Sunday afternoon. David will be stationed there for about a month before receiving his new assignment with the Pennsylvania Game Commission. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Titus, son, Delia, of Bradford, and daughter, Miss Joan Titus of Pittsburgh were guests at the Titus home, Saturday evening. Along with the improvements which Mr. and Mrs. George Carlson are making on their home, they are planning for a grocery store at Barnes.
It is the first place of business to be established in Barnes for many years, so here's best wishes for its success.

QUEEN-OVER-JACK WORKS FOR A SLAM
BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
If you like to play the queen over the jack, you will enjoy today's hand, played by William B. Hill Jr., at the Woodward Bridge Club in New York.
Hill won the opening spade lead with the jack and then led the five of diamonds. When East played low, Hill went up with dummy's king, assuming that the queen was over the jack. He played the queen of spades next, overtook with the king and led the jack of clubs.

Hill

East covered with the queen and dummy's king won. Two more rounds of clubs were taken and the fourth club ruffed in dummy. East discarding a spade. Now Hill picked up the trumps and cashed the ace of spades.
Hill said that in following the theory of the queen over the jack, he had to go up with the diamond king at trick two because West should have the queen. For the same reason he led the jack of clubs from his own hand, as under the theory East should have the queen of clubs.
The queen-over-the-jack theory is employed by good players only fails to give them an indication of the location of the missing honor card.

CROSS-RUFF SET UP TO EKE OUT 3-BID

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card authority
The name of R. E. Needham is well known to midwest bridge players. Dick has long been associated with bridge tournaments in the midwest. At the West Virginia State tournament at Clarksburg recently I met his brother, Edgar Needham, when he played today's hand against me.

Needham

3 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	2 ♠
3 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

East and West cashed the first two spade tricks, then a heart was led which Needham won in dummy with the ace. He returned to his hand with a club and led another heart. West won with the king and led a small diamond, East put on the jack and Needham won with the king.
Now he was able to cross-ruff the hand out for three-odd, and unlike rubber bridge, a part score in tournament bridge is just as important as a slam on another board would be.

have to play atlas to the world for a third of a year.

A third of a year—and what tragedy can develop in that time if the food emergency isn't met. Mr. Hoover will find (and probably foresees it already) that the passions of Europe are being swayed by hunger. Folk in the hard-hit areas are reaching wildly for new political nostrums in the hope that they will bring relief.

Thus we have political chaos in various of the liberated countries, and in the conquered states the labors of the occupation authorities are being rendered increasingly difficult because of public bitterness over short rations. The reform and rehabilitation of Europe are in the melting pot—and the fire isn't doing so well.

Mr. Hoover points out that the situation calls for sacrifices by the haves for the have-nots. Four months, of course, won't replenish the world's cupboard, but it will get by its most pressing emergency.

There come into my mind the lines of some great and good man who said that "if everybody cares enough and everybody shares enough everybody will have enough."

Under modern forest management, it is possible to take a harvest from the woods and still leave a forest growing. Forests and Waters foresters aver.

Beer Famine Faces Drinkers As Summer Days Come Near

The hungry folks of Europe will be the thirsty folk of the United States suffer more and more coming months. President Truman has cut down the supply of grain for the manufacture of beer and for use of distillers in that more grain may be sent to the sufferers in Europe and the parched throat awaits a luscious beer which has quenched the thirst with the beverages in the stills and vats.

Warren bars are already feeling the scarcity of beer and the distillers of the bottled beverage are advertised that they will make no Saturday deliveries. Several of the bars have ceased practice of letting the folks take a few bottles home and "take out" sales have halted. Several of the clubs are also feeling the scarcity although a few have laid in a small reserve supply.

Youngville, April 3—The regular meeting of the Youngville Borough Council was held Monday, April 1st. Several Building applications were approved by the committee and permits granted.

The council wishes to call attention of the citizens of the borough in regard to the proper use of the dumping lot at the end of Poplar street. As soon as material can be received an additional street light will be placed on Fourth street. Monday night's council meeting was adjourned to and until Monday, April 8th, when a number of legal matters will be taken up with the borough solicitor, S. D. Blackman, of Warren.

'Gib' Johnson Retires From Active Business

"Gibby" Johnson, for many years active in the men's clothing business has retired from his partnership in the Style Shop with Carl Lundahl, and Willis Lundahl and Norman Lundahl have taken over his interest. Carl Lundahl will continue in the firm and the same excellent service will be given in the future as in the past. The firm will continue to handle the same high class lines of merchandise that has made the store a mecca for well dressed men in the past.

The Style Shop was opened in 1918 by Mr. Johnson and Mr. Lundahl, and from the start it was a successful business enterprise. Especially younger men were attracted to the store due to the wide acquaintance and popularity of the partners. In 1936 the store was remodeled and made one of the really fine business places of the city.

Mr. Johnson became ill some months ago and his health has precluded much active participation in affairs of the enterprise. In his retirement he carries with him the best wishes of a host of friends and to the new firm a warm welcome in Warren's business life is extended.

CAGE LETTERMEN ARE ANNOUNCED

Nine members of the Warren High basketball team and their manager will receive letters, according to J. B. Leidig. Six of the ten have previously earned sweaters and will receive only letters, while the remaining four will receive both sweaters and letters. They are Al Babcock, Jack Eaton, Dick Harris, Ray Reed, Jim Scalse, and Neil Simmons, all returned lettermen; Gall Nelson, Anthony Vesico, Ed Wollaston, and Manager Duane Wilder.

MISTAKE IN COATS

John A. LeTrent is looking for the man who walked off with the wrong coat in the Texas Lunch on Thursday night, since his car keys and other possessions were in the coat pocket. The missing apparel may be returned to him at Carbon's Gulf Service Station, 1515 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

IS VACATING STORE

Alexander Rashid, who has for some months had a furniture display in the building which he owns on the south side of Pennsylvania avenue, west, is vacating the storeroom. He has rented it and must remove the furniture. Due to lack of space in his other store he has determined to sell all furniture on hand and cease handling furniture of all kinds. To that end he is staging a sale and hopes to dispose of all of his stock by Saturday night, if possible. To that end he has cut prices deeply.

ENJOYS VISIT

The Rev. U. B. Brubaker, former pastor of the First Church of the United Brethren, is in town for the weekend, with Mrs. Brubaker, and is visiting at the L. E. Nason home, 110 Pioneer street. He will occupy his former pulpit on Sunday morning. The Brubakers first came to Warren just 20 years ago, and spent five years in town. They moved to Westerville, O., in 1941, from Clarence Center, N. Y., Mr. Brubaker taking up his duties as instructor in New Testament Greek at Otterbein College in 1943. He has also served the college for two full summer terms of 11 weeks each and has supplied pulpits of various churches in that area.

When stewing prunes add a small stick of cinnamon while simmering and several slices of lemon. Good for breakfast and for prune whip.

FARM NEWS

By LEONARD A. UNGER

Harrisburg, (P)—Pennsylvania's entire agricultural and home economics extension staff has been mobilized to assist in a revitalization of the keystone state's wartime food production and conservation program.

J. Martin Fry, director of the Pennsylvania Extension Service, announced today 13 new assistant county agents have been appointed to strengthen the agricultural production phase of this educational service, while 10 new county workers in home economics have been added to assist with the food preservation program.

The assistance of local, county and community committees, also has been enlisted, Fry said, in an effort to bring about a peacetime revival of victory gardening. These committees have been asked to work with county extension representatives and Pennsylvania State College specialists in developing garden plans, conducting meetings and distributing garden information.

Walter B. Nissley, Penn State expert in charge of vegetable extension work, gave support to the program by appealing to Pennsylvania gardeners for their wholehearted support in the promotion of peacetime gardening.

War-time gardeners, he said, already possess tools and equipment, and with very little effort can expand 1945 production and thereby assist in alleviating world-wide food shortage.

The state department of agriculture reported a revised monthly estimate of baby chicks produced in Pennsylvania last year shows more than 84,000,000 were turned out by commercial hatcheries.

The greatest production for any one month was 14,638,000 for April and the lowest 1945 month was November with 1,254,000.

In January 1945 more than 4,000,000 chicks were hatched. By February the number exceeded 7,000,000 and there was 13,718,000 in March. By May the production had dropped to 10,500,000 and the June output was slightly less than 9,500,000.

Reduction was at the rate of about 1,000,000 per month for the remainder of the year, a slight upward swing being reported for December, the department said.

Although the number of chicks hatched during January and February 1945 is approximately the same as for those months in 1945, the demand for the remainder of the year is expected to decline from last year's monthly productions.

That this may not vanish
into thin air

We have learned again the dreadful cost of freedom and seen the terrible consequences wrought upon the earth by power-crazed aggressors. Now we taste the sweetness of Peace, made precious by the sacrifices of those who took up the challenge to our ideals.

If their stilled voices could speak, they'd say to us, "Never let this happen again. Make sure that what we have done has been worth while."

This nation is firm in the belief that the world as we know it would never survive a war of atomic weapons. A nation unguarded would never again be able to mobilize to protect itself.

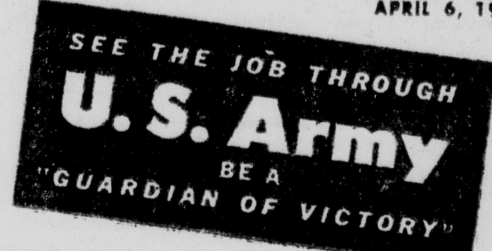

For that reason, on this Army Day of 1946, we see a new, highly trained Regular Army being formed. Already more men have volunteered than during any period in America's history. But, far more important than size—it is a new kind of peacetime Army manned by young men of high purpose and intelligence, capable of mastering the technical details of the scientific weapons essential to national safety today.

More than that, it will be an Army which has more opportunities for its members than any army on earth has ever offered. Education and travel. Good pay and comfortable living conditions for soldiers and their families. A retirement plan second-to-none. In short, one of the finest full-time careers a man could choose.

Let us all salute this new Army on Army Day. Let us recognize the responsible position it occupies in safeguarding the future of our country . . . that our Land and the Freedom we cherish above all else may not vanish into thin air.

as maximum production will be making a big contribution toward solving the serious food situation, says County Agent O. C. Tritt. Food commitments made by this nation toward easing famine conditions in several European and other foreign countries "make it imperative," he adds, "that our own gardens supply us with much of our own requirements in fresh vegetables for the next several months."

Planning means added satisfaction. Conveniently located gardens save time. If they are free from trees and plants get full benefit of the sunlight which is necessary for satisfactory growth, and absence of tree roots eliminate competition for plant food and water. Planting delays can be avoided if arrangements are made in advance for seeds and plants, also for lime, manure, and fertilizer. Soil well prepared pays off in good yields. Planned gardens suit the whole program to needs and space available.

Home-grown vegetables supply needed vitamins and minerals, and add zest and variety to meals. Any surplus can be sold to help defray costs, or preserved for later use in drying, canning, freezing, or storing. A plot 50 by 100 feet ordinarily supplies a family of four persons with vegetables for table use and for preserving.

Squirrels Are Staging Real Comeback

In the current issue of the Pennsylvania Game News among the reports made by Game Protectors over the state there are a couple of interesting bits from this county.

George Norris in a brief little note tells of the comeback of the squirrels in this locality and the fact that the big crop of acorns has much to do with it.

Mr. Norris had the following to offer:

"It has been a good many seasons since I have seen so many squirrels wintering here. There isn't a section in my district where they are not just plain plentiful.

The winter has not been hard on them as they had a large crop of acorns to fall back on. The larger deer herd also has been taking advantage of the acorns. It is remarkable to see how they dig through the snow to find them."

George H. Burdick, of Tidouste, game protector for that district offered the following relative to snowshoe rabbits:

"I had a report of a wildcat on Hickory Creek but I have been unable to find any sign of the cat. There are some gray fox signs in that area and gray fox tracks might be called wildcat tracks if the person seeing them is not familiar with the way a cat walks."

"The snowshoe rabbit is slowly increasing in this section and the fox hunters have reported finding them in places where they have not been seen for a number of years. The kill during the season is high for the number of hunters have to play atlas to the world for a third of a year.

A third of a year—and what tragedy can develop in that time if the food emergency isn't met. Mr. Hoover will find (and probably foresees it already) that the passions of Europe are being swayed by hunger. Folk in the hard-hit areas are reaching willy-nilly for new political nostrums in the hope that they will bring relief.

Thus we have political chaos in various of the liberated countries, and in the conquered states the labors of the occupation authorities are being rendered increasingly difficult because of public bitterness over short rations. The reform and rehabilitation of Europe are in the melting pot—and the fire isn't doing so well.

Mr. Hopper points out that the situation calls for sacrifices by the haves for the have-nots. Four months, of course, won't replenish the world's cupboard, but it will get by its most pressing emergency.

Under modern forest management, it is possible to take a harvest from the woods and still leave a forest growing. Forests and Waters foresters aver.

Beer Famine Faces Drinkers As Summer Days Come Near

The hungry folks of Europe will be the thirsty folk of the United States suffer more and more coming months. President Truman has cut down the supply of grain for the manufacture of beer and for use of distillers in that more grain may be sent to the sufferers in Europe and a parched throat awaits a luscious beer which quenches the thirst with the beverages in the stills and vats.

Warren bars are already feeling the scarcity of beer and the distillers of the bottled beverage are advertised that they will make no Saturday deliveries. Several of the bars have ceased practice of letting the folks take a few bottles home and "take clubs and dealers which have sent trucks to bring home a load of 300 cases have come back with one-third of that quantity and in some cases empty.

And with hot weather just around the corner, too.

Makers of soft drinks are having troubles, too, due to the sugar shortage and some of the favorite soft beverages are scarce and growing scarcer. All in all it begins to look as if the populace is about to discover what water tastes like.

Youngville, April 3—The regular meeting of the Youngville Borough Council was held Monday, April 1st. Several Building applications were approved by the committee and permits granted.

The council wishes to call attention of the citizens of the borough in regard to the proper use of the dumping lot at the end of Poplar street. As soon as material can be received an additional street light will be placed on Fourth street.

Monday night's council meeting was adjourned to and until Monday, April 8th, when a number of legal matters will be taken up with the borough solicitor, S. D. Blackman, of Warren.

ANNUAL BIRTHDAY PARTY

The annual birthday party of the Thy Company Class of the U. B. church was held Thursday evening. Twelve tables were decorated representing the twelve months of the year. Each of these tables held something characteristic of the month as June for brides. A prize was given to the April hostess for her table with spring flowers and colored umbrellas, the latter filled with candy favors. 2nd prize went to the hostess of the May table with its pretty May pole and small dolls used as May dancers. Flowers and birds were also a part of the center scene.

Chicken patties, hot rolls, cake and coffee were served. As a part of the program, while the members and their guests were present at the tables, each table group sang a song appropriate to the month they represented. There was more music and readings. Hats are to be trimmed as a feature of the next meeting.

'Gib' Johnson Retires From Active Business

"Gibby" Johnson, for many years active in the men's clothing business has retired from his partnership in the Style Shop with Carl Lundahl, and Willis Lundahl and Norman Lundahl have taken over his interest. Carl Lundahl will continue in the firm and the same excellent service will be given in the future as in the past. The firm will continue to handle the same high class lines of merchandise that has made the store a mecca for well dressed men in the past. The Style Shop was opened in 1919 by Mr. Johnson and Mr. Lundahl, and from the start it was a successful business enterprise. Especially younger men were attracted to the store due to the wide acquaintance and popularity of the partners. In 1936 the store was remodeled and made one of the really fine business places of the city.

Mr. Johnson became ill some months ago and his health has precluded much active participation in affairs of the enterprise. In his retirement he carries with him the best wishes of a host of friends and to the new firm a warm welcome in Warren's business life is extended.

FARM NEWS

By LEONARD A. UNGER

Harrisburg—(P) Pennsylvania's entire agricultural and home economics extension staff has been mobilized to assist in a revitalization of the keystone state's wartime food production and conservation program.

J. Martin Fry, director of the Pennsylvania Extension Service, announced today 13 new assistant county agents have been appointed to strengthen the agricultural production phase of this educational service, while 10 new county workers in home economics have been added to assist with the food preservation program.

The assistance of local, county and community committees also has been enlisted, Fry said, in an effort to bring about a peacetime revival of victory gardening. These committees have been asked to work with county extension representatives and Pennsylvania State College specialists in developing garden plans, conducting meetings and distributing garden information.

Walter B. Nissley, Penn State expert in charge of vegetable extension work, gave support to the program by appealing to Pennsylvania gardeners for their wholehearted support in the promotion of peacetime gardening.

War-time gardeners, he said, already possess tools and equipment, and with very little effort can expand 1945 production and thereby assist in alleviating world-wide food shortage.

The state department of agriculture reported a revised monthly estimate of baby chicks produced in Pennsylvania last year shows more than 84,000,000 were turned out by commercial hatcheries.

The greatest production for any one month was 14,659,000 for April and the lowest 1945 month was November with 12,544,000.

In January 1945 more than 4,000,000 chicks were hatched. By February the number exceeded 7,000,000 and there was 13,718,000 in March. By May the production had dropped to 10,500,000 and the June output was slightly less than 9,900,000.

Eduction was at the rate of about 1,000,000 per month for the remainder of the year, a slight upward swing being noted for December, the department said.

Although the number of chicks hatched during January and February 1946 is approximately the same as for those months in 1945, the demand for the remainder of the year is expected to decline from last year's monthly production.

That this may not vanish
into thin air

We have learned again the dreadful cost of freedom and seen the terrible consequences wrought upon the earth by power-crazed aggressors. Now we taste the sweetness of Peace, made precious by the sacrifices of those who took up the challenge to our ideals.

If their stilled voices could speak, they'd say to us, "Never let this happen again. Make sure that what we have done has been worth while."

This nation is firm in the belief that the world as we know it would never survive a war of atomic weapons. A nation unguarded would never again be able to mobilize to protect itself.

For that reason, on this Army Day of 1946, we see a new, highly trained Regular Army being formed. Already more men have volunteered than during any period in America's history. But, far more important than size—it is a new kind of peacetime Army manned by young men of high purpose and intelligence, capable of mastering the technical details of the scientific weapons essential to national safety today.

More than that, it will be an Army which has more opportunities for its members than any army on earth has ever offered. Education and travel. Good pay and comfortable living conditions for soldiers and their families. A retirement plan second-to-none. In short, one of the finest full-time careers a man could choose.

Let us all salute this new Army on Army Day. Let us recognize the responsible position it occupies in safeguarding the future of our country... that our Land and the Freedom we cherish above all else may not vanish into thin air.

as maximum production will be making a big contribution toward solving the serious food situation, says County Agent O. C. Tritt. Food commitments made by this nation toward easing famine conditions in several European and other foreign countries "make it imperative," he adds, "that our own gardens supply us with much of our own requirements in fresh vegetables for the next several months."

Planning means added satisfaction. Conveniently located gardens save time. If they are free from trees and plants get full benefit of the sunlight which is necessary for satisfactory growth, and absence of tree roots eliminate competition for plant food and water. Planting delays can be avoided if arrangements are made in advance for seeds and plants, also for lime, manure, and fertilizer. Soil well prepared pays off in good yields. Planned gardens suit the whole program to needs and space available.

Home-grown vegetables supply needed vitamins and minerals, add zest and variety to meals. Any surplus can be sold to help defray costs, or preserved for later use in drying, canning, freezing, or storing. A plot 50 by 100 feet or nearly supplies a family of four persons with vegetables for table use and for preserving.

It was a hot finish for the Commercial League last night at the Penn. Times-Square by losing 1 point to a hard fighting Penelec outfit, saw Coes come thru with a 4 point win over Rudolph's to make it a tie for 2nd half honors. The Service boys who won total by a close margin of 2 pins were paced by Red Farr who slammed out 221-588. For Penelec Henry's 556 was high. In the Coes-Rudolph battle Giunta's 555 and Dalrymple 550 were the leading scores. Genberg's 534 paced the Barbers.

LUDLOW

Ludlow, April 1—Regular services were held in Moriah Lutheran on Sunday morning with the sermon topic entitled "Christ In Court" delivered by the Rev. Hans Pearson. The choir anthem was "Bread Of Life" by Clark.

The Covenant Mission church presented Mr. Erick Norman, Home Missionary from Maine, who has worked in isolated districts of that state. He showed Kodachrome slides of his work. This was given in lieu of the regular services.

Immediately following the Wednesday evening Lenten Services, the Luther League met in the church parlors with an exceptionally fine attendance. The meeting was conducted by the president, Robert Johnson. During the business meeting it was decided to hold Luther League Fellowship Day in conjunction with the regular services on April 28th. The following program was given: Piano solo, Delores Johnson; reading, Garnett Beers; piano duet, Shirley and Margaret Ann Swanson; humorous monologue, Mrs. E. K. Connelly; vocal solo, Mrs. E. K. Connelly; reading, Kent Swanson; harmonica solo, E. O. Nelson. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the following committee: Mrs. M. I. Jones, Edith Larson and Linnea Swanson.

An extremely interesting program was given in the High School auditorium on Thursday evening by various groups. The program was sponsored in observance of Free School Day in Pennsylvania. Directors for the evening were: Music, Mrs. Emil Nelson; eighth grade, Mr. John Gaynor; freshman Mary C. Matthews; juniors and sophomores, Miss Catherine Bellucci and accompanist, Margaret Ann Swanson. The program follows:

Musical selections, "March," by Vanguard and "Organ Melody," given by the orchestra.

Remarks, Principal J. A. Waite.

Movies concerning "Science and Agriculture" were shown using the new equipment. This is the first year that Ludlow schools have owned movie and sound equipment and this was the first showing to the public. The community is proud as well as interested in any improvement in the school system. This project was commenced over a year ago.

A one act play, "Wildcat Willie" was given by the eighth grade with the following characters: Wildcat Willie, Virgil Nelson; Gladys, his sister, Shirley Swanson; Joe, Charles Nystrom; Vernon, George Ciprich; Kathie, Bertha Begony and Celia, Allene Johnson.

A hilarious Style Show or (Clothes Make the Man) with Shirley McKenzie as the Modiste or stylist—Mademoiselle Shirley and her mannequins, was given to a very appreciative audience.

The evening closed with "The Star Spangled Banner" by the audience.

Mr. John Gaynor and the seventh and eighth grades held a party at the Roller-Skating Rink in Sheffield on Friday evening at which everyone had a splendid time. Most of the children hope they will be able to have another evening there. Spectators report that it was amazing to watch the progress made by children who had never skated before this only to discover that they had made an excellent beginning before the evening was over.

Mr. and Mrs. James Waite were present at the dinner given on Saturday evening at the American Legion Hall at Smethport which was given for school officials by the retiring McKean county superintendent of schools, Mr. C. W. Lillibridge and Mrs. Lillibridge. Among the guests were Dr. Chandler, president of Clarion State Teachers' College, and Mrs. Chandler; Dr. Livermore, president of the State Board of Education, and Mrs. Livermore; and Mr. Akeley, Potter County superintendent of schools.

Movies shown at the school during the week were: "Soy Beans," "Mountain Mammals," and "Switzerland."

Cub-master Tony Morelli welcomed parents at a get-together meeting with Cub Packs No. 1 and No. 2 on Friday evening at the Walter Cox play room. The parents held a meeting in the early evening at which Mr. Walter Cox presented the Cub Pack Charter from National Headquarters to the boys. Immediately following this Mr.

Poor Housekeeping Blamed For Many Fires In Homes

Harrisburg—The fire death toll of 130 in Pennsylvania during 1945 could have been greatly reduced by better housekeeping, according to Captain W. F. Traeger, Fire Marshal, Bureau of Fire Protection, Pennsylvania State Police.

He pointed out that 80% of all fires are of a preventable nature resulting from lack of care, indifference and neglect in permitting a combination of circumstances to occur that invite fire.

"Householders are among the worst offenders," said Captain Traeger. "While business places are responsible for many fires, it is in the home that more than 50% of all blazes occur."

"In many homes there are accumulations of rubbish in cellars and little-used closets; dangerous heating systems; defective electric wiring or other inflammable liquids improperly stored and oily rags not in metal containers."

Dry cleaning with gasoline, or other inflammable liquids, is also a common practice in some homes that can easily lead to death or serious injury, he said.

Commenting on the importance of eliminating these and all other fire hazards Captain Traeger said: "Fire is no respecter of persons and even though it is an unwelcome guest it usually goes only where invited. Spring house cleaning time affords an excellent opportunity to remove from the premises these invitations to death and needless waste through fire."

Leroy Johnson, chairman of the Cub Committee, gave the boys their registration cards. The Den Chiefs, Kent Swanson and James Nelson of No. 2 and James Christenson and Paul Johnson of No. 1, and their Packs gave several stunts as part of the program. There was a goodly representation of parents.

Warren visitors during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cox, Mrs. Adolph Johnson, Mrs. John Peterson and Mrs. John G. Johnson.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. Backache is Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 8 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisons to remain in your blood, it causes nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubules flush out poisons from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

DARK POWER

Chapter 22

"Waiting for me?" Di repeated.

"Sit down!" he said. "Yes... Yes... It is your uncle's wish that you should be informed... He is leaving you practically his entire estate of seven hundred thousand dollars."

His pleased smile died on his lips.

"Are you ill?" he cried.

"No," she said, faintly. "Only, naturally... I want to see Uncle Rufus, please."

"Quite natural and proper!" said Mr. Purvis. "Perhaps I was somewhat too abrupt... There's no cause for immediate alarm. Doctor Coat assures me..."

"I'll just go up and see," said Di. And all the way up the stairs she said to herself: "I have the upper hand. I'll insist upon seeing him. And I'll say what I want to say. I'll see him alone."

As she reached the top of the stairs, she was startled to hear her aunt laugh, a low, cheerful chuckle, answered by another laugh, a man's.

There they were, Aunt Emma and Doctor Coat. Doctor Coat leaning against the wall, Aunt Emma standing facing him, smoking, looking up at him with a glance that was coquettish and gay.

Di turned away, astounded by this new aspect of Aunt Emma.

"But now's my chance!" she thought, hastening to Uncle Rufus's room.

The door was open, and Uncle Peter was sitting in there, half asleep. But at the sight of her came wide awake in an instant. She looked past him, to the bed where the old man lay.

"Uncle Rufus!" she said.

"Come here!" he answered, in a voice so hoarse and faint she could scarcely hear it. She went toward the bed, but Uncle Peter sprang up and barred the way.

"Stand out of the way, please!" she said.

"No!" said Uncle Peter.

"And what's this?" asked Aunt Emma's voice from the doorway, where she had appeared, with Doctor Coat.

The old man on the bed half-raised himself.

"Don't go..." he said, in that hoarse, extinguished voice. "They'll kill me. Stay..."

He sank back, turned his head to the wall. Diana faced Doctor Coat.

"Did you hear?" she asked.

"Most unfortunate..." he murmured.

She was indignant at so weak a word. She stepped out into the hall, where she could speak without Uncle Rufus hearing.

Aunt Emma interrupted, "Diana's convinced that we're all engaged in a conspiracy—to murder Uncle Rufus."

"Come, come, Emma!" said Doctor Coat, shocked. "I'm sure she thinks nothing of the sort. He glanced at Di, and smiled; no doubt he meant it for a benign, and reassuring smile, but it was not. "The important point," he went on, "is that Rufus doesn't believe in this—this conspiracy himself. Only this afternoon, when I suggested moving him to a hospital, he refused. That is pretty conclusive proof that this is not a genuine delusion."

"It's no use, Matthew!" Aunt Emma interrupted. "I'd like a word with her, if you'll excuse me. Come here, please!"

Di followed her into the next room; not until the door was closed behind them did she realize what room this was.

"Are you able to realize that if you persist in taking this notion of your Uncle Rufus seriously you are tending to invalidate his will?" "I don't care," said Di. "I won't—see him—like this. He's frightened."

"My God!" said Aunt Emma, with a sigh. "Very well! I'll admit that he's frightened. He has the paranoid delusion of persecution."

Technically, he's insane. Like your father."

"My father!" cried Di.

"Like your father," Aunt Emma repeated. "He believed he was persecuted. He—"

"He wasn't insane!" cried Di. "That's not—"

"The stock is tainted," Aunt Emma went on, tranquilly. "You must have observed it. Peter's a high-grade moron. Rufus is a paranoiac. Miles, just at present, is a borderline case."

"This inclination of yours to build fantasies is dangerous. It is just that refusal to accept reality that destroyed your unfortunate mother."

"Don't—talk about her!" said Di.

"I think," said Aunt Emma, slowly, "it's time... I've kept it from you, until now, because you are so remarkably ill-adapted to hear any unpleasant truths. But now... Here, in this room..."

"I don't—want to hear..." she said.

"But you're going to hear," said Aunt Emma. "It was in this room that I last saw her alive. I was fond of her, but I had seen from the beginning that she was pitifully maladjusted. Like you, she was incapable of facing reality. She demanded a love and loyalty from other people which is never given. She wanted to be 'happy.' You are like her."

Her strong fingers closed upon the girl's arm.

"Come here!" she said, and led her to the window. "She wrote her name, here, on the sill. It's too dark for you to see it, but her name is here. You see those three pines, standing together? That is where she died."

Diana could only look, with dilated eyes, at those three black trees.

"Here, from this spot where you are standing," said Aunt Emma, "she threw herself out of the window. Because she could not face life as it is."

"No..." said Diana.

"You're like her," said Aunt Emma. "Too much—like her."

Keiter Relates Execution Of British Fliers
Of Weygand, he declared: "It is absurd even to think we wanted to do away with the chief of staff of Marshal Petain. The collaboration policy reached its zenith in 1940 and 1941 and a breach with Petain would have resulted."

WORDS ARE NOT ENOUGH

ARMY DAY, APRIL 6, 1946, finds this nation at peace. The long war years are behind us and now, in company with other peace-loving nations, we look forward to a new era of international friendship and security.

And on this day we would do well to think for one moment of the men who have made this possible. Their graves are scattered throughout the world . . . on lonely beaches, desert sands, beside quiet streams, in silent jungles. There was a heavy price to pay. Our debt can never be erased. But we can make sure that the mistakes of the past are never repeated.

We cannot close our eyes to the future. We cannot escape the dreadful admonitions of the past. We are irrevocably dedicated to world peace. We have pledged our word. But words are not enough. We must maintain an efficient Regular Army if the sacrifice that bought Victory is not to have been in vain. Above all, there will be no time for mobilization if war should strike in the future. We must maintain this Army if we are to make sure that no group of men or nations can ever again plunge the world into war.

And on other Army Days in years to come, the citizens of this great and peaceful nation will listen to the measured tread of the Regular Army and be thankful for its protection and proud of the ideals of good-will and friendship it fosters.
